

FREE LIBRARY

Currently on exhibit at the Helen Bumpus Gallery of the Duxbury Free Library are the paintings of Leo Prince. Mr. Prince will meet the public Thursday at 8 P.M. in the gallery for an evening with the artist and his paintings.

Mr. Prince has lived in Duxbury since 1946, and is presently supervisor of art classes at the Museum of Fine Arts, Boston. His paintings will be on exhibit in the library gallery until Oct. 17.

SOUTH SHORE NEWS
Wednesday, October 1, 1969

Police Continue Search For Missing Paintings

DUXBURY — Three paintings reported missing from the Leo Prince Exhibition at the Duxbury Free Library's Helen Bumpus Gallery last week are still being sought by Duxbury Police as of today.

The paintings, possibly stolen between closing time last Thursday night, Sept. 25, at 8 P. M. and the next morning at 9 when the gallery was opened for cleaning, were missing from their frames and the wood stretchers. Mr. Prince set the value of three abstract works at $1,100. He is preparing sketches of the paintings which will be widely circulated.

The Trustees of the library, the Art Advisory Committee, and the artist are all anxious to recover the paintings and will accept their return with no questions asked. They would greatly appreciate any information that might lead to the recovery of the paintings.

Mr. Prince, a free-lance artist who resides in Duxbury and teaches at the Museum of Fine Arts School in Boston, has been exhibiting his paintings in the Helen Bumpus Gallery in a one-man show, Sept. 22 through Oct. 17.

Wednesday, October 1, 1969

SOUTH SHORE NEWS

'An Evening With The Artist' Set At Free Library

Artist Leo Prince whose paintings are currently on exhibition in the Helen Bumpus Gallery of the Duxbury Free Library, will meet the public Thursday evening, October 9, at eight o'clock in the gallery for "An Evening with the Artist and His Paintings."

Mr. Prince, who was born in Haverhill, has been a resident of Duxbury since 1946. He is presently supervisor of art classes at the school of the Museum of Fine Arts, Boston, where he has taught for 27 years. During that period he has conducted classes in drawing, graphic arts, advertising design, and foundation design.

The Works of Leo Prince will be exhibited in the library gallery through October 17.

So Shore News 10/1/69

'An Evening With The Artist' Set At Free Library

Artist Leo Prince, whose paintings are currently on exhibition in the Helen Bumpus Gallery of the Duxbury Free Library, will meet the public Thursday evening, October 9, at eight o'clock in the gallery for "An Evening with the Artist and His Paintings."

Mr. Prince, who was born in Haverhill, has been a resident of Duxbury since 1946. He is presently supervisor of art classes at the school of the Museum of Fine Arts, Boston, where he has taught for 27 years. During that period he has conducted classes in drawing, graphic arts, advertising design, and foundation design.

The Works of Leo Prince will be exhibited in the library gallery through October 17.